

Booka

Booka is one of those cases that you never forget, no matter how hard you may try.

Booka was an owner surrender to the dog shelter as a four month old pup, her owners reportedly unable to care for her. At first glance, she appeared to have been burned, either chemically or by scalding grease or even by fire, but at closer look, Booka's skin condition was something much more severe, much harder to diagnose and even harder to treat. But thanks to the dedicated support of a widespread medical team, including emergency doctors, dermatologists, and wound care specialists, Booka's skin condition was diagnosed as a toxic epidermal necrosis, the result of a severe drug reaction to a Clavamox overdose, and a four month course of treatment was instituted to give this girl a chance at a 'normal' life, albeit minus some patches of hair and plus large areas of scar tissue. Booka has made a remarkable recovery and her spirit is amazing, and continues to be. She loves to play with other dogs, is amused by cats and their antics, and is 100% devoted to her people. Booka is crate trained and housebroken, loves to go for rides, and will be a constant companion to the person lucky enough to call her their own.

Go-Getter

Want to get more exercise? Action is my middle name. My 'let's GO!' lifestyle will keep you motivated to get outside and move. I've got tons of energy, and just like the sun, I'm burning and working 24 hours a day, seven days a week. I'll run for miles, chase a ball for hours, and still want to play at the end of the day.
